Work History

2014– 2015

Web Developer, Catch Digital (Rimmel London , Sally Hansen, BBC GoodFood) www.catchdigital.com
Backend developer within a very strict development process, pull requests with code reviews, where the code must pass CodeSniffer tests. Developing modules and templates for high traffic websites, Drupal 7 with multi domain and languages, involved in the deployment process. Sporadic frontend tasks and third party integration.

2012 – 2014

Junior Web Developer / Web Developer, ATD Travel Services (main brand: www.attraction-tickets-direct.co.uk)
Several white-labelled Drupal 6 sites, multi language and multi currency for brands like Disney and Universal Studios. Upgrading to Drupal 7 by creating an API to decentralize the sites into individual ones. Tasks like creating custom modules, custom themes, creating new sites and managing the servers.

2012 – 2013

Freelance Web Developer & Web Designer, PeepsOut LLC (www.peepsout.com)
Creating the former Drupal 7 site for Start-up Company based in NYC. The website is a streaming and marketing tool for bar owners and users. The project was conceived as a light, responsive and easy to use site to be loaded from phones. The site used Drupal Commerce to sell bar owners extra features like banners and ads.

June 2012 – July 2012

Freelance Web Developer & Web Designer, Dead Letter Records (www.deadletterrecords.com)
Static website with custom design based on the brand and vibe of the bands that the label represents, light and responsive. With plans to translate the site into an e-commerce Drupal 7 site.

December 2011 – January 2012 / January 2014 – February 2014

Freelance Web Developer & Web Designer, www.agatacieslak.com
Makeup artist portfolio site previously made static with Twitter Bootstrap and a jQuery gallery now has been translated into a Drupal 7 site with a theme based on Twitter Bootstrap, Isotope photo gallery. Strong focus on SEO, minimalistic and elegant design.
